WAR WITH JAPAN

Dr. Green Gives Five Reasons i Lecture Why Conflict Is Improbable.

Japan does not want to fight the United States, and the reason for this is that the empire of the Mikado is bankrupt; it needs the aid of the American people more than their enmity. These and other facts were pointed out last night by Dr. Thomas E. Green, of Chicago, who lectured in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association before a fairly large and interested audience on the subject of "The Truth About Japan."

Dr. Green visited Nippon, studied its people, its characteristics, and gathered information from every possible source. His talk was highly instructive and threw much light upon a subject with which few citizens of this country are familiar.

When I had prepared to return to this country." the lecturer said, "I had with me written interviews with every with me written interviews with every minister in the Emperor's Cabinet: I had talked with Japs in every walk of life. In parting from Count Okuma, he said: 'When you get back to your country tell the American people the truth about Japan.' The 'Truth About Japan.' The 'Truth About Japan.' The 'Truth About Japan.' The subject of my lecture.

And fifth and last, the Japanese have a let we have a contestant in the pole vault. Five Reasons for Peace.

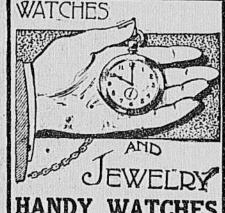

"Does Japan want war with the brilling States? I will tell you—Japan does not want war with anybody; for the brilling of Japan is $1.275.000.000. Company of the brilling of Japan is $1.275.000.000. is not want war with America; First, she is not physically able; she is helplessly and hopelessly bankrupt; she has the most stupendous national debt of any nation. Second, the Japanese love the United States with an affection almost pathetic; they have never forgotten

Case Against Former Bank President Continued on Account of His Ill Health.

[Special to The Times-Disputch.] Alexandria, Va., March 13 .- In the Corporation Court this afternoon the case of C. Jones Rixey, president of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, was continued until April 10 next. This was owing to Rixey's III health.

Rixey appeared in court, accompanied by his attorneys. He appeared anything but a well man and was apparently feeble.

Itls bondsmen renewed their bond in the sum of $40,000 for Rixey's appearance at the time of trial. Rixey's attorneys were armed with a medical certificate, setting forth that his phy-sical condition at this time would not ustify him being tried at this time The impression prevails that when Rixey's case is again called for trial his attorneys will move for a change

FASTS A WEEK; FEELS WEAK ONLY IN MIND

on Any Subject, and Had Pains in IIIs Head.

Geneva, N. Y. March 13.—William M.
Quinn, a senior at Hobart College, this week concluded a seven-day fast. During the fast Mr. Quinn took no solid food and no liquid except water.

A little over a week ago Mr. Quinn while reading a magazine account of persons who went without food for certain periods jokingly remarked to one of his classmates that he would be able to go without food for a week.
The result was a wager, which resulted in Mr. Quinn demonstrating that he was equal to the task.

During the entire time that he went without food Mr. Quinn consumed between eight and ten glasses of water a day, but as the days passed he drank less and less. He declares that the pangs of hunger became less painful after the first two days, and that at the end of the week he felt less hungry than at any time.

During the fast Mr. Quinn kept a diary in which he describes his experiences and feeling. In this diary he tells of severe pains in the head early in the morning accompanied by blind spells on first arising, which passed away after moving about. He also states that during the week, he was unable to concentrate his mind on any one subject or to indulge in any passtime that required mental exertion.
His fast prohibited him from doing any of his college work.

New York, March 13.—News was received here yesterday of the completion of the proposed merger of the American Academy in Rome and the American School of Classical Studies in Rome. Through the combination, it was announced, the scope of the academy has been enlarged to include architecture, sculpture, painting and the srchaeology, literature and history of the classical and later periods, thus creating a school of fine arts and a school of classical studies.

It was also announced that the endowment fund had been enriched by $100, 600 subscriptions from J. Plerpont Morgan, Henry Walters, W. K. Vanderbilt, James Stillman and Harvard University. A similar sum has been given as a memorial to Charles F. McKim.

Final Preliminaries for Oratorical Contexts Held at University.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Charlottesville, Va., March 13.—The final preliminaries for the oratorical contests bave been held at the University of Virginia, and the speakers selected. On the first Wednesday in May the Southern oratorical will take place in Cabell Hall, at the university. Virginia's representative will be G. R. Warthen, as principal, with the subject, "The Evolution of War." Edmund Read Mabry, of Poplar Hill. Tenn., is the alternate.

The State oratorical contest will be held at Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, on the first Friday in May. Virginia will be represented by M. L. Wallerstein, of Richmond, with William A. Schmitt, of Yazoo City, Miss., as alternate, Mr. Wallerstein's subject is "The Next West."

Professor C. W. Paul is busy coaching the debaters for the foronsic contests with North Carolina and Vanderbilt. The debate will probably take place April 22.

WAGE INCREASE GRANTED BY VIRGINIAN RAILWAY

Rosnoke, Va., March 13.—Following a conference between the officials of the Virginian Railway and the boller-makers and machinists, which was in pregress several days, an agreement was arrived at which is satisfactory to all concerned, which means an increase which will give the men 38 cents per hour. This applies to the men on the entire system.

Squads Out Every Day and Developing Great Form-Handicap for Open-Air Meet.

It now appears practically certain that when permission is requested from the Grounds and Buildings Committee of the City Council, which will meet Thursday night, for the use of the Blues' Armory, in which to hold the Blues-College dual indoor track meet on March 24, it will be granted. There appears to be no good reason why permission should be withheld. At any rate, the original plans are being car-ried out on the presumption that no objection will be raised by the com-mittee.

Yesterday Coach Hagaman had his men at the armory, and the squad showed material improvement over the form exhibited when last they were put around the board track. One reason for this was that the floor is in much better condition for running than previously.

Blues Training Hard.

While every effort is being made to round the collegemen into the best possible form, it must be remembered that Coach Olin Richardson, of the Blues, is also working on his squad. Nearly every afternoon a visitor to the armory can find some of the lithelimbed soldier boys jogging around the track, and now and then developing a burst of speed which augurs well for their success.

Up to the present time sanction from the A. A. U. has not been secured for the indoor meet, but it is thought that application for the date will be made within the next few days.

As to the open-air meet, to be held at the ball park on April 12, Manager Corley announces that each mail is bringing in information that practically all of the colleges to be invited will be on hand with a complete roster of near. Realizing that the large number of teams to be here will make it necessary to have handicap events, he has taken the matter up with Dr. Dickey, president of the Athletic Association, and these events, together with the entrants, will be forwarded within the next day or two to the official handicapper of the A. ALEXANDRIA JAIL REPAIRED AND COURT DISMISSES RULE

Ispecial to The Times-Dispatch.]
Alexandria, Va., March 13.—A rule issued in the Corporation Court three years ago against the Mayor and City Council, to show cause why a new jail should not be erected or the present structure remodeled, was dismissed in the Corporation Court this morning, the present structure having been adequately remodeled.

The remodeled jail was opened for prisoners this morning for the first time, and ten city prisoners who have been confined in the Alexandria county jail were transferred to It.

Makes Light of Protests Against Brigham Young's Portrait on Silver Service.

Senator Reed Smoot, who was here way to Utah for a short visit preceding the extra session of Congress, declared, when asked about the portrait of Brigham Young on the silver service to be presented to the battleship Utah, that no one in many meetings of protest against this instantly.

mons had little to do with the making of the silver service design, and that ure in the design in a central or con-spicuous way. To say his portrait is used does not give the correct impression. C. Jackling, one of the best known non-Mormons in the Far West, was chair-man, and of which a majority of the members were non-Mormons, thought that it would be well to honor upon the design the work of Utah's artists and sculptors. One of the early efforts of the sculptor, Cyrus Dallin, now of Boston, but born in Utah, was a pio-neer monument, now standing in Salt Lake City. It celebrates the trapper in one figure, the pioneer in another, and Brigham Young, the first Governor of Utah, as a central figure. Another young sculptor designed a monument to the sea gulls, which made the pioneering of Utah possible by their attacks upon the crickets of Salt Lake Valley. Both of these monuments are utilized in the design of the silver service, and as both are subordinated in a general grouping which includes other figures, impression is very different from what would be imagined by one who reads that Brigham Young's portrait is the central feature." Senator Smoot pointed out that the line of attack on Brigham Young, hav-ing to do with his alleged acts of disloyalty, would not be likely to receive serious consideration by Congress if Yet 'special dispatches' from Utah filled the New York papers all winter, and it was on the showing made by these largely that the army was ordered West in the spring. Governor Cumming, who accompanied it to oust Brigham Young, remained to be his firm and fast friend, and an official investigation found the charges made in the fake dispatches to be without foundation, while a court clerk confessed that he had hid documents, while he returned to their places afterward, in order that a charge of destroying government property might be launched against the Mormons."

LIGHTNING'S QUEER ACTION.

Almost Destroys Frame House, But Oc cupants Are Not Injured. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., March 13.—This morning before day lightning literally destroyed David Fulks's two-story frame house, near Singers Glen. A bolt shattered the roof, plunged down through the ceiling, set a vacant bed on fire, then darted through the floor into a lower room, where Fulks and his wife were sleeping in an iron bed.

The bolt divided and demolished the chairs, pictures on the wall, shot through the side of the house into the kitchen, where it ruined chairs and sideboards. Every window was shattered. Unharmed, but terrified, Fulks and his wife escaped from the house and called to neighbors, who arrived in time to put out the fire. With their home a wreck, the Fulkses gathered up a few pieces of furniture to-day and moved in with a neighbor. They think the iron bed saved their lives.
